Wudless presents India's first patented Hybrid Kitchen

What is Hybrid kitchen?

Hybrid kitchens are undoubtedly the luxurious solution that is specialized in designs and also provides high quality. These kitchens are those that mix the old and the new. The carcass (inner section) is made up of Stainless steel, 304 grade, and the shutters are made up of Sustainable materials. These are safe for cooking, storage, and dining

Why Hybrid kitchen?

These types of kitchens are quite the trend now as it is easy to see why: Hygiene is the key factor in a hybrid kitchen which increases and improves the functioning of kitchen space. Washing the Carcass ensures the kitchen quality as SS will withstand prolonged water usage, which in turn means more lifetime, low or nil maintenance, and environment friendly.

Why Wudless Hybrid kitchen?

Wudless is a top affordable interior designing company with more than a decade of experience in this industry. Apart from the above-mentioned advantages, the R&D team of Wudless had given more attention to detail during the product development.

The specific details are,

- Patented smart connection system - which provides an elegant look and avoids SS welding.
- Patented sandwich puffed layer for the bottom cabinet - which gives more strength, and in turn can withstand more weight.
- Universal hardware fittings - any brand hardware will easily fit into Wudless' SS cabinets.
- Flexibility of choosing different types of laminates for the shutter-(High gloss, Matt finish, Acrylic).

How much does it cost?

There is a myth that stainless steel kitchen costs more. Wudless breaks this by,

- Optimising the own SS factory process
- Using stainless steel only in the base cabinets where the water usage will be high.
- Wall units will be conventional engineered material.

Costs just more than the conventional modular wooden kitchen but lasts long for generations.
